

Show stopper

THERE was a carnival atmosphere at Trap show thanks to good weather.

The party mood, coupled with the high quality entries and remarkable team spirit and workmanship on behalf of the landowner Geoff Greenstock, the show committee and the team of hard-working stewards who pulled out all the stops, made for one of the best shows ever.

President for this year's show was Enid Williams of Garnbica. Enid and her late husband Gareth have been stalwart supporters of the show for many years and always ready to help steward or assist at all peripheral events.

The committee was therefore delighted and honoured to have Enid as president and was deeply touched by her kind and moving words of address.

The marquee, as always, was a wonderful spectacle and filled with the fruits of so much of the talent that abounds in our corner of the country.

This year also saw a large entry of dogs for the pet show, and particularly the terrier and lurcher classes, which were qualifiers for the Heart of Wales and Welsh Valleys Show.

As well as the competitions, the craft demonstrations proved very popular, and many enjoyed trying their hands at pottery and jewellery making.

The Caterpillar Challenge, mountain bike course, duck racing and children's sports were hugely popular with the youngsters.

The whole day proved a thoroughly enjoyable affair, with plenty on offer for all those who attended.
